Character of the Indian

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE INDIAN POSSESSED AN ASTONISHING MANNER HE SPOKE BUT LITTLE AND IN COUNCIL WAS VERY DIGNIFIED BUT IN THE EXCITEMENT OF THE WAR DANCE HE YELLED AND LEAPED ABOUT LIKE MAD.

HE COULD FACE GREAT DANGER WITHOUT FLINCHING OR ENDURE TORTURE WITHOUT AN OUTCRY BUT IF HE BURNED HIS FINGER OVER HIS OWN FIRE HE WOULD HOWL.

THE INDIAN'S KNOWLEDGE OF WOODCRAFT WAS REMARKABLE—HIS POWERS OF SIGHT, HEARING AND SMELL WERE SO KEEN THAT HE WAS LIKE A HOUND ON THE SCENT WHEN TRAILING HIS ENEMIES OR GAME.

AN INDIAN NEVER FAILED TO REPAY A KINDNESS BUT THROUGH THE SELFISH CRUELTY AND GREED OF THE WHITE MAN HIS FRIENDSHIP WAS TURNED TO HATE.

TOMORROW—INDIAN WARRIORS.

ROUT RADICALS IN SENATE FIGHT

Senators watched the proceedings with plain evidence of amusement which the spectators frequently shared.

Vice-President Dawes called the Senate to order and held the chair for about two hours. He then surrendered to President pro tempore M. C. Capper, who presided over the session.

Neither he nor Senator M. C. Capper attempted to enforce rigidly the rule against demonstrations from the galleries.

Senators Norris of Nebraska and Borah of Idaho led the fight against the party's program, with Chairman Watson of the Committee on Commerce and Senator Ernest of Kentucky carrying the brunt of battle for the organization.

There were frequent references in the debate to the Roosevelt revolt in 1912 and the failure to penalize his supporters. In that connection, Senator Borah said that if the support of the party candidate for President was the test of Republicanism, quite a number of Senators would have to be read out of the party.

BORAH QUESTIONED
Disclosing that he had not voted for President Taft in 1912 and also had not supported the Republican Governors of Idaho, Senator Borah said that if the test was support of party nominees he himself might not be able to class as a Republican.

"Are you a Republican," asked Senator Ernest. "I think I am," returned Senator Borah.

"That's a question," retorted the Kentucky Senator.

The Idaho Senator said that around election time leaders of the party certainly regarded him as a good Republican and called on him to help in the campaign.

Senator Watson declared the test of Republicanism was support of both the candidate and the party platform at the time of election.

Charging Senator La Follette with disloyalty to the party, Senator Ernest said they had deliberately sought to wreck it and elect their own candidate for President on a platform which he said was violative of its fundamental principles.

SEE BLOW AT WEST
Senator Northrick, Republican, North Dakota, and Senator Borah both contended that denunciation of the insurgents would be a vote against the people of the West who had elected them on the Republican ticket.

Senator Frazer charged that "political radicalism" in the Northwest had been brought about by the houses of the Republican party; that the present situation, at least in his own State, was due to a revolt of the farmers against the houses because of failure to carry out campaign pledges.

Senator Norris, who held the floor during much of the session, made a final protest against the selection of Senator Watson as chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the body that deals with railroad legislation.

"This will give the greatest satisfaction to all the railroads of the United States," he said. "They have killed two birds with one stone. They got rid of a man (La Follette) they did not want and got a man they do want. I don't think they could rake the country and get a man that would suit them any better."

CHILE-PERUVIAN DECISION MADE

President Coolidge in the Tacna-Arica controversy was received with rejoicings here. This was particularly due to the fact that the Chilean contention for a plebiscite had been accepted by the American Chief Executive.

Tense expectation marked the early hours today while the people awaited the award, the first news of which was given to the public through the Associated Press service to the Mercurio. Shortly after the news became public, the archbishop requested authority from the government to ring the church bells.

From Santiago, the news was distributed to all parts of Chile. The government decided to send a cable dispatch to President Coolidge thanking him for the efforts he had taken to serve the cause of American peace. Foreign Minister Jorge Matta paid a visit to William C. Culler, the American Ambassador, to express the thanks of the Chilean nation to the United States government for the service that had been rendered toward peace.

Mr. Culler was cheered by the crowds when he entered the Moneda Palace to deliver the award to the foreign minister, and also when he left the building.

Miles of Peruvians gathered in the central plaza and read a summary of the decision. The news was on the streets within a few minutes and was received with extraordinary silence. Iowa Financier Passes as Wife Lies Near Death
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DUBUQUE (Iowa) March 9.—While preparations were going forward late today for the funeral of Andrew A. Loetscher, 67 years of age, manufacturer and banker who died from a heart attack this morning, his wife was lying at the point of death as a result of a paralytic stroke suffered two weeks ago.

Loetscher was an officer in four cash and door manufacturing companies, vice president of the Federal Bank and Trust Company here, director in the International Bank, Washington, D. C., member of the Dubuque University executive board, and vice-president of the Dubuque Home for the Aged. Loetscher is survived by his widow, three sons, George and Edwin, and a daughter, Mrs. Howard McCoy, Dubuque, and a brother, Peter, Dubuque.

NAVY MEN ON STAND
Lieutenant-Commander H. Stuart, a received for Teapot Dome representing the Navy, followed Finney to the stand. His stay was brief when attorneys interposed objections to hearsay evidence. Finney was finally brought out by the Navy. He was not allowed to testify at the Teapot Dome case before the contract was signed.

Lieutenant-Commander I. F. Landis of the Navy, followed but was on the stand only a moment when he left after objections to hearsay testimony by the defense.

George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, told of Felt's request for a survey of the Dome and his order sending Felt to the reserve for that purpose.

Then it was Heald's turn, and the "red" was brought out by prominence and left there by adjournment.

Harry F. Sinclair, the central figure in the trial, attended both morning and afternoon sessions.

LIQUOR IS SEIZED
Among the arrivals at the opening of the trial was a shipment of Federal prohibition agents and was confiscated. The shipment was unloaded from a westbound train last Friday night and was under the surveillance of Lon C. Davis, Federal prohibition director for Wyoming, until today when it was delivered at a leading hotel.

The hotel clerk refused the shipment and Davis took charge of it.

The case, which contained twelve bottles of Vermont and twelve of cream de menthe, was killed from New York City.

FALL SILENT ON PLANS AT TRIAL
(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

DENVER, March 9.—Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, tonight declined to state whether or not he would stand on his constitutional rights and refuse to testify at the Teapot Dome trial at Cheyenne, where he has been subpoenaed as a witness.

"Whatever action I take will not be divulged until I have reached Cheyenne," he said.

Questioned as to when he expected to put in an appearance at the trial Fall said the fact that he probably would not be called until next week had left him plans somewhat up in the air.

Pomerene Outlines Case for Government

M. Blackmer, president of the Midwest Oil Company, A. E. Humphreys, Mexican Texaco oil man, and H. S. Oiler, president of the Continental Trading Company, it was at this conference, the government contended, Humphreys contracted to sell 33,000 barrels of crude oil at a price of $1.50 a barrel.

Pomerene declared, was guaranteed by Sinclair and Oiler as representatives of their various companies.

On that same day the Canadian company resold the oil to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company, and the Prairie companies at the price of $1.75 per barrel, a net profit per barrel of 25 cents.

This transaction showed a paper profit to the Continental Trading Company, since gone out of business, of $3,000,000. Continuing the pursuit of money which the government charges Fall received for his part in granting the lease to Mammoth, Pomerene said that on May 8, 1922, $300,000 in Liberty Bonds were delivered to Oiler in part payment for the oil purchased by the Sinclair and Prairie companies, and a few days later $195,000 was paid to the Sinclair.

The decision of Fall, this one month after the Teapot Dome lease was signed, on April 7, 1922, was on the streets within a few minutes and was received with extraordinary silence. [All special editions of the newspapers refrained from editorial comment.]

IGNORANCE OF LEASE
Edward C. Finney, former Assistant Secretary of Interior, was the first government witness. Much of his testimony dealt with routine matters of office organization within the Interior Department. At one point he said that he had no knowledge of the fact that the Teapot Dome was a lease of land referred to him.

The defense went into the qualifications of Finney as a witness when he testified that he had advised Fall that, in his opinion, it would be legal for the government to exchange in royalty crude oil for fuel oil of steel tankage. Finney testified that the same opinion had been given him in a telephone conversation with Admiral J. E. Robinson.

Admiral Robinson's opinion was based, Finney said, on the ruling of the judge-advocate of the Navy. Numerous documents and letters, whether or not he would stand on his constitutional rights and refuse to testify at the Teapot Dome trial at Cheyenne, where he has been subpoenaed as a witness.

"Whatever action I take will not be divulged until I have reached Cheyenne," he said.

Questioned as to when he expected to put in an appearance at the trial Fall said the fact that he probably would not be called until next week had left him plans somewhat up in the air.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

CHICAGO, March 9.—The final testimony of W. E. D. Stokes, millionaire apartment-hotel owner of New York, in his trial with Robert F. Lee, Chicago negro, on charges of conspiring to defame Mrs. Stokes, included a denial of a break with the present Mrs. Stokes over his attentions to Mrs. Rita Acosta Lydig, his first wife. He admitted he had seen Mrs. Lydig after her second marriage and admitted that in 1922 he gave her $10,000 so that she could marry Rev. Percy Stickney Grant.

The aged defendant also testified that within the last two weeks he had obtained an affidavit from a negro named Chase, formerly employed on his Lexington (Ky.) stock farm, accusing Mrs. Stokes of infidelity with Earl Hineshaw, the family chauffeur. He denied that he had paid the negro for the information.

Questioned about real estate transactions in 1911, Mr. Stokes denied that the Ansonia Hotel in New York had been transferred to his first son, "Weddie" but "according to a court agreement in 1901 he was lost in a maze of legal wranglings."

QUESTIONS NOT PURSUED
The State insisted that line of questioning was designed to show that present Mrs. Stokes had been forced to sign away her dower rights, but Judge W. N. Gemmill ruled it was immaterial, and it was not pursued.

Mr. Stokes testified Dr. Maurice Rosenberg, former house physician at the Everleigh club, former notorious Chicago night life resort, told him "that I gave him $25,000 to see Mrs. Stokes, whisper something in her ear, and she would disappear."

He had previously told me that Mrs. Stokes was the victim of the murder of Marshall Field, Jr., added Mr. Stokes. Further remarks were lost in a maze of legal wranglings.

PULLMAN CAR EVIDENCE
Testimony that Mrs. Stokes shared her sleeping car berth with a man on a trip from Denver to Chicago late in 1922 was given by John P. Burke of Chicago, sleeping car conductor, who pointed out Mrs. Stokes in the courtroom and asserted she traveled on the car of which he had charge with a man who he said was "a fellow named Billie, her cousin. At about 2:30 o'clock in the morning, Burke testified, his attention was directed by the car porter to the absence of the man from the berth above that of Mrs. Stokes.

I went to the place and heard a conversation between a man and woman in the lower berth," he said.

He testified that he was on the witness stand when court adjourned until tomorrow. His testimony covered much of the ground previously covered, telling of his efforts and those of others to obtain affidavits from members of the former Chicago underworld, stating that Mrs. Stokes had been an inmate of the Everleigh Club, the investigation which led to the indictment of Lee and Mr. Stokes.

COTTON POOL PAYS MEMBERS MILLIONS

AUSTIN (Tex.) March 9.—It is announced by John F. Orr of Dallas, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, that a distribution of little more than $150,000, the March quota on cotton which was cooperatively marketed through the association for its members will be made March 25. The total deliveries by the association during the season exceed 283,000 bales, which is an increase of 101,000 bales over the deliveries for last season. It is stated that the membership is considerably larger than last year, and John F. Orr is favorable for a large increase this year.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) March 9. Prima Rodriguez, 12 years of age, was probably fatally burned while trying to take the place of a deceased mother in her father's household on a farm about eight miles from San Antonio. Preparing dinner for her father and brother, she poured on a stove kerosene oil and lit the stove. The flames leaped up and burned the upper part of her body badly. There is small chance for her recovery.

SENATORS SIFT AUTO MEASURES

Committee Fails to Agree on Proposed Legislation

Luminous License Plates at $5 Each Frowned Upon

Change in Right of Way Rule
Also Meets Opposition

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, March 9.—Motor vehicle legislation and proposed changes in the present laws were discussed at a meeting of the Senate motor vehicles committee today for nearly three hours without reaching an agreement that would enable the reporting out of a single bill.

Headway was made, however,
in defining the committee's policy with regard to several proposals and a subcommittee of three was named to draft bills and amendments to meet the wishes and suggestions outlined.
The Legislature will not authorize the Motor Vehicle Department to require the installation of illuminated license numbers provided for in an amendment offered by Senator Crocker of San Francisco. It was apparent. Superintendent Marsh of the department declined to recommend such an amendment, although he said the illuminated number was desirable, if not made compulsory. The cost of lighted numbers would be about $1 for each plate, or a new financial burden on the California automobile public of $7,500,000 the first year, members of the committee were told.

Senators Tamm, Sacramento;
Sample, San Diego, and Reed of Piedmont were appointed by Chairman Sharkey of Marines to compile suggested amendments and report back to the committee. The subcommittee was instructed to attempt to draft an amendment which would be constitutional and permit the exclusion from payment of the commercial truck tax of machines used only occasionally for hauling produce or poultry to market, serving the greater part of the time as a passenger vehicle.
The subcommittee will draft a bill designed to prohibit placing posters or stickers on the windshield or windows of a motor vehicle.
Also a measure providing that a battery headlight operating on a battery installed on cars manufactured prior to 1915 until after the Legislature shall have met again.

RIGHT OF WAY UNCHANGED

The committee discussed changes in road regulations so that right of way at intersections would lie with the car coming from the left,
but decided that such a change would be undesirable. The driving public was being educated,
that the change would be undesirable. The present right of way regulation, the committee was told,
gives the car coming from the right
the precedence unless this right is lost by speeding, or the car at the left has already entered the point of intersection. The speeding clause does not apply to actual operation of the car, but has a legal significance in judicial or court proceedings in fixing responsibility for accidents. Eighty-five per cent of the accidents that happen each year in California take place at intersections, the committee was told.
Senator Murphy, San Francisco, asked the committee to consider an amendment to the General Vehicle Act prohibiting cars from running at less than ten miles an hour on State highways.

NEW EXPIRATION DATE

The committee amended the license section so that automobile licenses would expire on the first Monday in March and left it to the subcommittee to decide when the period of grace would expire.
The County Assessor of Los Angeles was quoted as asking that in view of the proposal to require certificates of payment of taxes or assessment for the personal property tax before a license plate be issued, the period of grace be extended to April 15.

Senator Sample informed the committee that only over his dead body would the Senate be permitted to vote for a measure which would require the installation of any new patented or unpatented devices before a car could be operated in California.
Fears of persons who are deaf that their rights to drive a car will be jeopardized by a clause in the general motor bill were declared unnecessary by Superintendent Marsh, who explained that while the bill gives the department additional rights to impose an examination before licenses are issued, it would not apply to persons already holding licenses.
In any event, he said, before a person could be denied a permit, he would have the right to demonstrate his ability to drive and demonstration of ability would be sufficient to compel the issuance of a permit.

College Youth, Disappointed in Love, Kills Self

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
ATLANTA (Ga.), March 9.—
Marchmont Maddock, 20 years of age, freshman at Georgia Tech and whose home was in New York City, ended his life by hanging himself with a radio wire in his room at the school dormitory. His body was found by a roommate hanging from a closet door.
A note, addressed to a young woman here, in which Maddock said he would rather die than be denied the privilege of seeing her, was found near the body. It was stated that Maddock indicated in the note that the woman's parents had objected to his paying her attentions.

DEMPSEY BOUT
HERE PROPOSED

Kearns States Negotiations
Are Now in Progress

is to Put on Fight as Shrine Week Feature

Building Prospect if Coliseum is Not Available

Los Angeles is the likely site for the next fight for the heavyweight championship of the world, for Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, announced last night that the amateur will defend his heavyweight title against Jimmy Gibbons in the Los Angeles Coliseum next June,
if the 1925 Shrine convention, if negotiations now under way with certain Los Angeles motors are successful.

Kearns has postponed his departure for New York until tomorrow to go over certain details have come up in connection with the new developments.
Kearns said the negotiations are at the point of view of coming to a close. He said that he had named the promoters of the fight since "several groups of men are still figuring on it."
He said, "the fact that I have been talking with him on deal were prominent Los Angeles men interested not so much from a sporting point of view as from the point of view of commercial advertising. These nonprofiteers are still figuring on it."
He said that a championship bout
in the Coliseum during Shrine week would add a huge impetus to the annual spring travel into hither California.

ARENA CONSIDERED
Would the Coliseum not be able to hold an outdoor arena will be decided, he added, and possibly already are being inspected for the eventuality in mind.

The fight staged in Los Angeles because of the New York Commissioner's recent action was an ultimatum at Dempsey's hands.

Kearns said that Dempsey fight will be a time finding me a promoter to stage the match," he explained. "The New York State Commission has forced me to go and find someone around here and willing and capable of putting it through."

Kearns will leave for New York tomorrow to appear as a witness before the Federal court action there against Teddy Hayes and others in the interstate transportation of illegal prize-fight films.

interested in the sayings and doings on Page 5, Column 11

ARIZONA EXTRA SESSION LIKELY

Senate Dawdles Along With Funds Bill Unpassed

Colorado Pact Resolution Up
for Action Today

Bank Guarantee Measure is Dead in Committee

PHOENIX, March 9.—The Senate today showed an inclination to dawdle over its work and to ignore the fact that Thursday night must see the end of the session.
The appropriation bill was not placed before the committee of the whole. Indeed, there was a whisper that the appropriation bill might get lost in the shuffle and compel the calling of an extra session.

Tomorrow the Winsor resolution on the Colorado River compact is expected up for action in the Senate. Whether it can be put through the House in the limited time yet available is a question.
At the best, it might clog the ses-sion's business.

The banking guaranty bills appear to be dead in committee. An effort to get them out this afternoon in the House failed by a vote of 17 to 27. The House spent the afternoon working on highway legislation that has small chance of passage, yet their features were fought bitterly by administration and anti-administration members, especially on the sections that sought to take the management from the governor's hands.

In the Senate was considered a motor-car licensing bill that took most of the afternoon in committee of the whole. Agreement was reached to pay the Postville farmers $1000 for legal expense attending their fight against proposed destruction of cotton crops for asserted presence of boll weevil.
They wanted $10,000.

An attempt in the Senate to bring back the anti-administration civil administration bill failed, 26 to 12. There still is doubt whether the code commission bill has become a law without the signature of the Governor and the matter may have to go to the courts. Administration supporters charge
Senator Sims with having jobbed
the Governor in the matter.

Pottery Worker in Hospital
Tells of Gun Battle

Two-Mile Walk Preliminary to Death Struggle

Case Puzzle to Officials of Placer County

AUBURN, March 9.—One man is in the morgue, another is at the County Hospital in a critical condition, and the officers of Placer county are puzzled over the outcome of what appears to have been a deliberate duel to death between two Mexican pottery workers of Lincoln last Saturday afternoon.

Dan Melendez, 46 years of age, is at the hospital with a bullet through his lung, and an even chance of recovering. Zacarias Martinez, 31, is dead. Despite an active afternoon in Lincoln and vicinity yesterday, Dist. Atty. Orrin J. Lowell, Sheriff Elmer H.
Gunn and Coroner Colin B. Hishop have been unable to find any direct evidence regarding the affair.

Melendez asserts that he and Martinez had a dispute regarding some work at the pottery, and that they left to obtain guns agreeing to meet at a given point and settle the matter with weapons. He states that they met, walked two miles northeast of Lincoln together, part of the time single file, and finally chose a semicircular spot for the death struggle.

Officers found evidence that both men had fired several shots, for empty cartridges were located that would fit the guns with which the battle took place. The deceased was shot through the head, while the survivor was shot through the lung. He walked toward Lincoln and was finally overcome, being found by a passerby who reported the matter to Sheriff Gunn at Auburn.

The wounded man was not found until Saturday evening, so several hours passed between the shooting and the time the officers were notified. They searched until late at night for the body of the dead man, finally locating it and bringing it to Auburn early Sunday morning.

POOR MEDICAL TRAINING IS HIT

Doctors' Congress Speaker
Scores Present Methods

Cancer Mortality is Laid to Superficial Preparation

Hundred-Year Life Prospect is Forecast for Future

CHICAGO, March 9.—The pre-valing high cancer mortality was ascribed largely to superficial medical training, by Dr. James Ewing of Cornell University medical college,
New York, before the annual congress on education, licensure, hospitals, and public health of the American Medical Association here today. He declared the progress of medical science had bitten off a bigger mouthful of knowledge than medical education had succeeded in chewing.

"Though there is tremendously more medical knowledge than thirty years ago, it is taught so thoroughly as then to the student preparing for practice," he said.

"Some think four years," he added, "is inadequate to give the training that was given in three when there was less to teach."

Dr. Ewing declared that he was not convinced that "four for hour we are doing any better than they did in 1895." He went further and expressed doubt that the four-year courses of 1925 were able to present essential knowledge as well as those of 1897, the first four-year courses established in this country. He was positive "the three-year curriculum of 1890 was as adequate for the current state of knowledge as is the four-year curriculum for present conditions."

Now that there is more knowledge to impart, it is imparted less thoroughly, he explained.

Predictions that the expectancy of life will be 100 years in another century were made today by Dr.
Gilbert Fitzpatrick of Chicago, member of the board of directors of the Illinois State Examining Board.

"In 1776 the expectancy of life was only twenty-seven years; now it is fifty-eight years," he said.

"By following out hygienic and preventive methods this expectancy will be made seventy-eight in the next half-century, and in 100 years we can expect our great great grandchildren to live for five-score years."

Tomb of Ancient Egyptian Ruler
Believed Found

CAIRO, March 9.—Dr. Reisner's Boston-Harvard expedition, which has been working for several years in the vicinity of the Giza pyramids, has discovered what it is hoped is the tomb of Seneferu, first sovereign of the Fourth Dynasty (about 4000 B.C.). The tomb was located near the great pyramids.

The discovery is considered unusually interesting as the sarcophagus was unearthed intact, with much funeral furniture inside. The tomb was found ninety feet down in the rocks. Dr. Reisner is in America at present and Allen
Rowe has charge of the operations.

BOSTON, March 9.—Prof.
George A. Reisner, head of the Boston Harvard expedition which was reported in dispatches from Cairo tonight to have uncovered
the tomb of an ancient Egyptian king here tonight declared "that it is an important find, but almost certainly it's not the tomb of Seneferu."

When Riches Lure

The Story of a Wife Who Wanted Only Luxury

GERALDINE WADE longed for the things she did not have—luxuries of every kind, at beautiful home, motors, yachts, and ladies' maids, silken, clinging clothes, social standing, the adoration of men and the envy of other women.

That is why she married Dudley Graham, a brilliant young lawyer whose prospects for quickly rising to the pinnacle of success seemed excellent.

For a time she was ideally happy. Although the riches she had so confidently expected failed to come she had a comfortable home, a husband who worshipped her, a beautiful blue-eyed baby girl, every comfort that she needed.

Then Young Ted Keplinger, who was rich beyond the wildest dreams of avarice, came into her life. Everything she had longed to have was at her beck and call. Under the insidious influence of his wealth the novelty of her marriage to Dudley quickly wore away. She felt that she had been cheated. And when Keplinger, in his infatuation, let her know that in order to get the things her heart desired all she had to do was to say the word, out of her seething discontent Geraldine made up her mind that since her husband could not give her the luxuries for which she longed she would have them anyway.

But now from the bitterness of her heart she tells in True Story Magazine for April the story of "The Woman Who Wouldn't Be Contented." Taken straight from life this tale of a girl who traded woman's birthright for a mess of deceitful golden pottage contains a poignant lesson of priceless value.

If every young man and young woman could read it, if they could follow the downward progress of Geraldine Graham, step by step, from the time she took the first fatal plunge until she arrived at the state of misery, shame and poverty from which she now pours out her heart to the readers of True Story many whose heads are now turned by the luxury, jazz and speed they see on every side would be saved from the heartache and ruin that otherwise will be in store for them.

If you are a young man or woman or the parent of growing girls and boys be sure to read this powerfully compelling story in the April issue of True Story Magazine.

Dudley's face was drawn and white. "You can go," he said, "but I am going to keep the baby." — From "The Woman Who Wouldn't Be Contented," in April True Story.

Other Powerful, Heart-Gripping Features in April True Story Magazine

"My Husband Didn't Know"—Sweet into marriage on the tide of a great true love, Ruth gloried in the thought that David, her husband, belonged to her heart and soul. Yet she found a peculiar joy in her power to attract the attentions of other men. "Just little harmless flirtations," she called them. She did not realize that even a "harmless flirtation" may be full of danger to a woman's soul. So when Stanley Walters came into her life, and her husband came home one day to find—But you must read for yourself the tragic consequences of this girl's folly. A gripping, dramatic, true-life narrative.

"Heart's Crucifixion"—Virginia was just the clean, wholesome minded loveable type of girl that would naturally attract a fine, trustworthy fellow like Bruce Andrews. Yet they were not in love. Bruce was already engaged—and when they went together to the dance—their minds were set on nothing but a jolly good time. How little they foresaw the sorrow and shame that was to overtake them before morning dawned. Drinks were served—and Virginia and Bruce, foolishly drunk with the rest. As for the rest of it, read Virginia's own story. Those who defend the drinking of liquor will find something to think about on reading this frank but bitter confession of a disillusioned and sorrowing girl.

"Hands Off"—When Dave and Nanette married, people said, "Never were two young people more perfectly mated." No one could doubt their true and lasting love. But that was before the fascinating Virginia Hadden, came to town. Instantly young men swore they would willingly become her slaves. But she encouraged Dave alone. That he was married made no difference to her. And Dave really meant no wrong. Could he have looked ahead—could he have visioned the black pit of despair he was digging for himself and the little wife at home whom he really loved—Don't fail to read Dave's tragic story. It is one you won't soon forget.

The Power of Truth

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 25, 1925
To the True Story Magazine:
I have had occasion in several instances to be a staunch defender of your magazine. I believe that here, and especially girls, will be safeguarded from leaving the straight and narrow path, if they read and study the experiences of others who write for True Story. Some people say, "But these experiences are written out the plainly—let's face it, doesn't it? And I have told them that they read just as plain talk in the newspapers and think nothing of it. If you are traveling along the road and are tempted to wander off into a mass of undergrowth because you are curious or careless, and you encounter something that ruins, or threatens to ruin your life, and you tell other travelers of the danger, wouldn't you make a V.I.P. plate, or would you just W.I.T. around and let them find out for themselves? True Story clearly shows how easy it is to commit the wrong, by picturing the acts and penalties that result. That is why I am removed from wrong-doing by reading the stories in your magazine. And after all, the glamour is the thing that blinds one in many cases. Mrs."

"FREEDOM" Takes Its Fling

On every hand, sober-thinking men and women are asking the question: "What is the world coming to?" Of late years, there seems to have been a letting down of those time-honored ideals and restrictions upon which our very civilization has been built. Mankind seems to be revelling in a new-found but dangerous "freedom." With a great hurrah for spiritual and moral "liberty," the world appears to be rushing to its doom.

Yet this apparent "slipping back"—this easy tolerance of false modern doctrines—are not matters for despair to those who face modern conditions with energy, courage and confidence. Bernard Macfadden, editor and publisher of True Story Magazine, is one of these. An earnest student of history, he long ago foresaw, and began the study of how best to help humanity cope with the gigantic social and personal problems that face the world and its people today.

Ignorance and so-called innocence, he knows, are the greatest, most effective allies of Evil. The only weapon that can destroy the power of Evil is the flaming sword of Truth. Through the pages of True Story Magazine, Bernard Macfadden is able to wield that weapon. Here men and women, who through innocence, ignorance or careless folly, have violated the laws of God and man—frankly tell of their experiences and of the frightful price they paid for doing wrong. To use a common phrase, "You can't get away with it" is a theme that runs from cover to cover through True Story Magazine. Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

A GREATER Los Angeles is in the making. Around the corner of Time, a bigger, far-flung, better city stabs the blue above.

Industrial forces marshal to meet this mammoth growth. Brighter glow the furnaces, greedier are the earth bites of the steam shovel, more incessant and higher pitched is the Brown-ing gun note of the riveter.

Men there are who envision this growth—men who interpret the shadow which comes before the event. Such men guide the destiny of Pacific Clay Products.

☞ To these men the growth of Los Angeles means much. Past growth has established their resources. Future growth insures them. Vast enterprises are launched upon their faith in this growth. . . .

☞ To contribute every possible effort towards a greater Los Angeles these men became identified with this industry. The products issuing from nearly sixty kilns in their three plants—flowing in a steady stream to the busy centers of construction—testify how the effort has become an achievement.

And of these products none is made with more care or sold with more pride than their Face Brick — for the men of Pacific Clay Products insist that these brick be of such reproachless quality that their part in the making of this greater city shall enhance its substantial and enduring beauty for all time.

You Can Make a Better Gray
Hair Remedy Than You

gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. You can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of ammonia, 1 ounce of glycerine, 1 ounce of rum, a small box of Barbours' hair cream, and 4 oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at a very little cost. The druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a day until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky, greasy and does not rub off.

hair and deeply bronzed face, from which his eyes peered intensely blue and childishly simple. He had gold rings in his ears, and his dress was neat and plain.

"My service, captain," he greeted Murray. "Ship's in order, I hope."

"My eyes if we've had so much the — hussy bore away from the hook."

The effect of the unspeakable blasphemies which poured with mild intonation from his lips was ridiculous, but nobody appeared to notice it, and I learned afterward that his habit of swearing by the anatomy of the twelve apostles and various saints and sacred figures was the quintessence of several quaint characteristics of an unusual personality.

"We won't complain about that, Master Martin," replied my great-uncle. "I have brought back my grand-nephew to be the mainstay of my old age. Here he is—Master Ormerod Martin. Ah, and this is a friend of his and an old enemy of mine, Peter Corlier," as Peter rolled over the top of the bulwarks. "He is more to be reckoned with than you might suppose," Peter.

"Master Martin, Nephew Robert, is my mate, and as such, my right hand and arm."

Martin stepped back, and the second of the three men confronting us touched his cap. This was a square, heavy-built fellow with a glint in his eye, who wore a decent blue cloth coat and small clothes.

"And here is Saunders, Master Martin's second," continued my great-uncle. "A Scot like myself, my nephew should make a fine Scotsman; eh, Saunders?"

"He's a braw-lookin' laddie in seamin'," Saunders agreed cautiously.

"Your meaning is that we must prove him?" responded Murray. "Quite true. We shall. Hoi, Coupeau!"

And he rattled into a string of French which I could not follow as the third man met him with a bow and a scrape of one foot. Coupeau was as brutal in looks and manner as Black Dog or Bill Bones, but without the sinister implications of speech and action that made me shudder whenever the blind man few approached me or spoke in my hearing. He had been branded on the cheek, and an attempt to obliterate the brand—or perhaps twas the superimposed scar of a wound—had made that side of his face a very nightmare. His wrists and forearms showed gouges that wound upward like snakes and suggested what other tortures his gaudy clothing concealed.

"Coupeau," remarked my great-uncle, turning again to me, "our gunner. I saved him from the French galleys, and he is not without devotion to me, that devotion tinged by self-interest which is to be preferred above all."

"And now we will go aft and prepare to receive Captain Flint. Master Martin, we shall probably lie here for several hours. Have all the tops manned and a vigilant watch maintained. I have every reason to suppose we need fear no intruders, but we must be on the edge of the cruising-course of the King's ships, and I'll take no risks."

"Aye, aye, sir," assented Martin. "We ha' not sighted a sail this twenty-four hours gone."

"And before?"

"A Philadelphia packet, Captain Flint made signal to chase; but I held off as you directed, and he turned back."

"You did well, Martin. I'll not forget. Conduct Captain Flint to us when he comes aboard."

Murray led us to a door in the break of the poop which was opened for us by a stalwart black in a red livery coat, who ushered us along a companionway lined with stateroom doors into a spacious state cabin stretching the width of the stern. The walls were paneled in mahogany; silver sconces were fastened at intervals, and a wondrous luster chandelier was pendant from the ceiling. Itself uncommonly lofty for shipboard; several paintings in the French school hung at the sides; and there were trophies of peculiar arms and armor. Underfoot were eastern rugs, thick-piled and soft of hue. The furniture was of mahogany, and a service of massy plate appeared upon the table that was set under the range of windows which formed the rear wall of the room.

My great-uncle surveyed this magnificence with pardonable pride. "Twas evident it meant something to him."

"Diondo," he said to the negro, "where is Master Gunn?"

"A high, piping voice answered him from the companionway. "Coming, worshipful sir. Ben Gunn's a-coming. I jest stopped by the galley to fetch up your sociolates, a-sayin' to myself as the captain would be sharp-set account o' early business in the morning."

The man who followed the voice trotted in bearing a silver pitcher of steaming chocolate. Murray's favorite drink, I learned. He was a slender fellow, with a simple, open face, clad in plain black as became an upper servant. He stopped dead at sight of us.

"Set your tray on the table, Gunn," instructed my great-uncle. "This is my grand-nephew, Master Ormerod."

El Reco del Pradera a Singh Sentenció

LONDRES, Marzo 9.—Esta tarde se esbrió el último capítulo de la "historia del chantaje más grande del mundo", pues William Hobbs fue declarado culpable de conspiración para defraudar a Sir Hart Singh, sobrino y heredero del Maharajah de Kashmir, por medio del chantaje, y salió sentenciado a dos años de trabajos forzados. El jurado ha iniciado el veredicto de culpabilidad por dos capítulos: conspiración y recepción de dos cheques de 150,000 libras (aproximadamente $750,000), suscritos por el Rajah.

El anciano abogado oyó el veredicto con toda calma y se retiró a las celdas del piso inferior. Antes de ser sentenciado apeló al juez en favor de su esposa, padre e hijos, de quienes es único sostén. Montague Noel Newton, que fue el cómplice de Hobbs en el "badger game" de que fue víctima el Rajah, y que el principal testigo de la corona en este proceso, fue duramente fustigado por el defensor de Hobbs, quien lo calificó de "chantajista de la peor especie y del canalla más grande, aunque inteligente, que ha ocupado jamás la barra de los testigos de cargo para prestar testimonio en favor de la corona." (Llamen en inglés "badger game" a esa especie de chantaje en que se hace caer a la víctima en una situación muy comprometida, y luego se le extorsiona, exigiéndole dinero por no hacer público el caso.)

Neillan manifestó que nunca, hasta esa noche, había visto al individuo que lo golpeó. Declaró que intentó responderle con un golpe; pero que los separaron los empleados de la prisión, y que dicho individuo fue obligado a salir de allí.

California Second; Many Deeds Recorded

Goodyear Tire Declares Extra Dividend

The amount of money involved in mortgages and trust deeds recorded in Los Angeles county by all the banks during 1924 totaled more than $23,681,054, according to an analysis prepared by the research department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank and made public yesterday by Charles H. Toll, vice-president of that bank. The number of mortgages and trust deeds recorded was 18,709.

These figures indicate that, contrary to rumors in certain quarters and despite the admitted slowing up of subdivision activity, the actual upbuilding of this city and county went forward at a high rate. Mr. Toll said, "Los Angeles county will never stop growing. These statistics are only added evidence of this fact," he declared. "They also show, since the average loan was $4472, that the banks have more dealings with men of moderate means than with rich men."

According to the report, the Security bank loaned $26,096,399 and handled $384 deeds and mortgages. The California bank, second on the list with a total of $9,542,429 in loans of this kind and with 2163 such transactions recorded.

The other banks in order of money totals were as follows: Pacific Southwest, $9,101,919; Bank of Italy, $7,710,461; Citizens Trust and Savings, $6,471,235; Hellman, $4,145,723; Union, $3,601,944; Bank of America, $293,890; all other banks in Los Angeles, $4,062,422; all other banks outside Los Angeles, but in the county, $12,281,381.

The other banks in order of number of instruments recorded were as follows: Pacific Southwest, 1990; Bank of Italy, 1711; Hellman, 1185; Citizens Trust, 1080; Union, 158; Bank of America, 157; all other banks in Los Angeles, 590; all other banks outside Los Angeles, but in the county, 4913.

This is the second dividend paid on the arrears, the first having been paid in January. Both dividends are payable April 1 to stock of record the 16th inst.

A quarterly payment of 1-3-4 per cent also was declared by the directors of Goodyear Textile Mills, payable on the same date. Both companies are subsidiaries of Goodyear Tire and Rubber of Akron, O.

Net earnings were $734,781.25, computed with $710,772 in 1923 and $640,657 in 1922. Total current assets were reported at $3,474,228.

TONNAGE REPORT AWAITED

Monthly Statement of Unfilled Steel Orders May Affect Stock Market; Estimates Low

BY EARLE E. CROWE

From the reaction of the stock market yesterday to higher money rates, it seems that the speculative community is inclined to run to cover on the faintest sign of danger. It has been obvious for some weeks that money will tighten slightly but the market has a habit of discounting this prospect on one day and ignoring in the next. In this state of mind, it will be interesting to observe the reaction of the traders today to the monthly unfilled tonnage report of the United States Steel Corporation.

Trade estimates forecast an increase in unfilled steel orders of about 75,000 tons. Ordinarily, an increase of this size hardly can be construed as a bullish report, but whether the market has fully discounted this prospect is difficult to say. The speculators knew several days in advance the contents of the President's inaugural address, but waited until the eve of the inauguration to display their complete accord with the views expressed. Fickleness of a similar variety may be exhibited today in the manner by which the steel report is greeted.

With stock prices at their present high levels and traders nervously inclined, it apparently will not require a great deal of bearish news to encourage operations for the decline. Indeed, the fact that the steel report may be construed as a bullish report may be seized as an appropriate weapon for a bear campaign. However, it is always the possibility that the advance estimates of unfilled orders are away out of line and the official report may contain bullish, instead of bearish news.

Probably the steel figures will be studied carefully for the indications that they will have of the trend in consumption. Production of basic commodities, especially steel, is at a high level, but to maintain this rate the industries must have a backlog of orders to justify the current rate of output. The steel industry is running at close to 85 per cent of capacity, while the independent are hitting the 75 per cent mark. Clearly, from the standpoint of the stock market, existing security prices are unwarranted. If the manufacturers are plainly beset in placing steel orders for second-quarter requirements.

In January, the unfilled orders of the Steel Corporation totaled 5,037,323 tons, an increase of 220,847 over the December figure. The January tonnage measure, by the Department of Commerce index number, was 85 per cent of the 1913-14 normal. This is more than any month of 1924, and compares with the average of that year of 84 per cent. The monthly average in 1923 was 83 per cent.

Most of the reviews of the steel industry have emphasized the favorable possibilities of March business. The stand has been taken that the stocks are plainly beset in placing steel orders for second-quarter requirements, and it is anticipated that the steel industry will have to come in before April 1 to insure delivery. The company's earnings for the first nine months of 1924, which would indicate that the important consumers as yet are unable to visualize future demand for several years ahead of the first load in 1924, which was recorded April 5.

PRODUCERS BUSY

If the large consumers of steel, including the automobile, building, and equipment industries, are unable to place orders very far ahead, this note of caution apparently is absent in the basic industries. The production of basic commodities in January was at a high level. The output of pig iron was 192 per cent of normal, steel ingots, 166 per cent, 97, and anthracite coal, 130 per cent. For fifty-one commodities, the output stood at 130, as compared with 108 a year ago and 143 per cent in December.

Some attempt has been made on the part of consumers to break the prices of steel products, but with little success. The Iron Trade Review's composite of fourteen leading iron and steel products last week was fractionally under the previous week at $41.05. Since the first of the year the composite has ranged from a low in the first week of $40.92, to a high of $41.22 in the week ended February 14.

Col. Leonard P. Ayres of the Cleveland Trust Company is one of the most astute of the steel industry who senses bearish omens in the present level of steel operations. His analysis shows that when the percentage of blast furnaces in operation is above a normal of 60 per cent, the peak of stock market movements has been reached. Operations are now above this figure and, according to his reasoning, this indicates that other industries are running at a rate of activity that is rapidly withdrawing money from speculative use into industrial channels.

CLEVELAND (O.) March 9.—Daily Metal Trade

"New England steel trade is slipping back to the use of Pittsburgh base price, short and steady, as measured with the preceding week, and tonnage went out of blast. Wonderful Opportunity in Oil Royalty

By a great stroke of good fortune I have secured a short time option on what I consider the cheapest, most promising and largest piece of ROYALTY acreage, close in to new gusher field, in all oil history.

Too big for me to handle alone. This is YOUR chance to get in on ground floor, if you are willing to take a small chance for enormous profit returns.

Grain Exports
Advance on Low American Prices

CHICAGO, March 9.—An immense export

business developed in domestic wheat export on Saturday, the result of the high American market on Saturday, which was a result of a report that the United States was to export a large quantity of wheat to Europe.

Reporters who offered wheat abroad Saturday night had accepted an immense quantity, and the market of the buying of future contracts was active. The buyers came from the western states on all breaks, and gradually appeared the surplus in the pit, competition houses selling wheat for the first time in the market.

Wheat was on a narrow grade, with only the lower to the higher, and sale of 40,000 for the day. May closed at 1.94 1/2, July at 1.91 1/2, and September at 1.87 1/2. May was 1/2 cent higher.

Reporters who offered wheat abroad Saturday night had accepted an immense quantity, and the market of the buying of future contracts was active. The buyers came from the western states on all breaks, and gradually appeared the surplus in the pit, competition houses selling wheat for the first time in the market.

ARCHITECT ROW GOES TO COURT

Injunction Sought in Fight Over New City Hall

Taxpayer Asks Restraining Order Against Council

Curtlett & Beelman Contract Attacked as Illegal

An order to show cause why the City Council should not be enjoined from causing a contract to be drawn between the city and the firm of Curtlett & Beelman, Inc., for the architectural work on the new City Hall was granted yesterday morning by Acting Presiding Judge Craig of Superior Court.

The order was made returnable before Judge Shaw in Department 25 the 17th inst. and in the meantime the Council will be precluded from entering the proposed contract under a temporary restraining order granted by Judge Craig.

Bond on the restraining order was fixed at $3000 and was deposited with the court at noon by Guy Crump.

The court action was taken on an application for an injunction filed through Attorneys Guy Crump and Leslie Hewett in behalf of Charles J. Casper, suing as a taxpayer. The petition for an injunction recites that the City Council passed a purported resolution the 6th inst., instructing the City Attorney to prepare the contract with Curtlett & Beelman, Inc., for the architectural work on the new City Hall, for the sum of $4,500,000. The resolution was purported to have been drawn under Section 267-A, Article XX of the city charter.

AUTHORITY ATTACKED

The injunction suit is based on the ground that the City Council has no power to pass such a resolution or authorize a contract relating to the designing or construction of any public building. Under the charter, the petition states, the Board of Public Works has sole power to authorize the issuance of such contracts. The contention also was made that the purported resolution was null as it provided for the expenditure of a sum of money in excess of $1000 to be realized from the sale of bonds.

The suit asked that the city be permanently enjoined from entering into a contract with Curtlett & Beelman as provided for in the purported resolution.

The injunction brings into the courts the controversy that has been raging around City Hall for months. It has to do with the selection of an architect for the new City Hall. The City Council has wanted Curtlett & Beelman and the Board of Public Works, John C. Austin, John Parkinson and Albert C. Martin, employed jointly.

COURT TO DECIDE

Each body claims the power to select the architect. The question of jurisdiction in similar matters has come up many times. City Attorney Stephens gave an opinion that under the present city charter the City Council has the right, if it so chooses, to award the City Hall architect contract directly and acting on this opinion the Council voted to hire the old president, Boyle Workman, sign the contract. The Board of Public Works claimed similar power. In any event the board superintends construction of the new building.

The injunction, thus, will cause a court to pass on the opinion of the City Attorney in this matter. The opinion is based on the old charter, which becomes defunct with the next elections. Under the new charter the Board of Public Works admittedly would have the power to make such contracts.

Members of the Board of Public Works yesterday expressed ignorance of who is behind the injunction suit.

The show is being staged by the Alhambra Kennel Club, sponsored by the American Kennel Club, and that prize awarded will be credited to all other like exhibitions. The event is said to rank high among shows of the kind and the management here is flattered with what they are sure will be a signal success.

Outstanding in the show are the displays of police dogs, terriers and Pekingese, as there is a large entry list in each of these classes. Beautiful white-haired Russian wolfhounds attract much attention. The entire display is housed in a tent covering a full city block and every inch of space is taken by the exhibit.

Among the unusual displays are two old-fashioned pug dogs, which are among the few specimens of the breed still in existence. These little fellows whose ancestors followed half half the society dames of a generation ago are labeled no so that young persons at the show will know to what variety they belong.

THEATER WARS ON SCALPER

Playhouse to Sell from Box Office Only Following Asserted Price Boosting by Agencies

Theater ticket scalping received a hard jolt yesterday in the announcement that the Playhouse and the Mason Opera-house will in the future sell tickets only from the theater box office.

Boosting of the price of tickets far above the box office scale was given as the reason for the new policy by Louis Maclean, owner of the Playhouse and one of the lessees of the Mason Opera-house.

Ticket-selling agencies of the city, instead of aiding the public in purchasing good theater tickets, have been pursuing a policy of constant increase in price, according to Mr. Maclean. By reserving large blocks of tickets, they have caused the box offices to hang out the "sold out" signs and have then doubled or tripled the cost of admission, he said.

One example given by the theater owner was a recent play at the Playhouse where 31 seats were disposed of by the scalpers at $3 each.

"The public is entitled to buy the tickets at the box office scale," Mr. Maclean asserted in continuing his attack on the ticket agencies.

The ticket agency in theory aids the purchaser of a ticket in getting a good seat but in practice orders from him sums which have been growing larger from week to week. The result has been that prices have become so high that the public has been discouraged from attempting to buy tickets for the better productions which are presented here.

That even lip sticks are used in preparing notes for the judges. There are six specimens of the Schipperke breed of the city, which represents about one-half of this variety on the Coast. One Chinese crest, with a peculiar top, like a rooster's comb, has the stage to himself in his class.

CHAMPION ON DISPLAY

E. A. Miller's English bulldog has many admirers among the spectators of the show. The dog is a champion of the breed and the fact that he is a grandson of Midwick Mike, world's champion.

The show is the Scottish terrier Glendower Hamish, which made a record in the show at the recent show at the Ambassador in Los Angeles.

Mme. Vivienne Villeneuve of Verdugo has the most extraordinary exhibit in the large tent where her display of Great Danes is shown. She has a dog named "The Wonder-Dog" which she brought from America in 1921, direct from the kennels of the German Kaiser.

A remarkable specimen of Pekingese is exhibited by Madeline D. McBride, whose H. Hang Toy has captured prizes on both sea boards, having been a native of New Orleans and brought to California a short time ago.

Judging in all classes was commenced this afternoon and will continue until tomorrow night when the show will close. It is expected that 10,000 persons will visit the exhibit before the final session.

Attorney Simpson explained the suit was instituted against the defendants on the theory that the Dohney Pacific Petroleum Company no longer has assets subject to taxation. The charge was made in an explanation of $15,000 damages for assets of the company, as alleged by Miss Pollock against Samuel L. Reichlin.

Miss Pollock said she became acquainted with the defendant in January, 1924, and that they had agreed to be married the 15th inst. She said she had been told by the defendant that he was not married and that he would not marry her on the 15th inst. Her complaint was prepared by Attorney Max Rapoport.

FORTY-NINE LAWYERS TAKE ADMISSION OATH

Forty-nine law students became lawyers yesterday when the class which recently passed the State bar examinations was sworn in by Clerk Lillie of the Second District Court of Appeal, Division One. After going through the court formality of approving their admission to the bar, Presiding Justice Conroy of the Appellate Court made a brief address from the bench congratulating the class. He admonished the students that their greatest success as lawyers would not come solely by winning cases but through constructive contributions to a more perfect justice.

Man and Wife Are in Jail Under $25,000 Bail

A grand jury investigation of transactions of R. Berscheid and his wife, Margaret, of 130 Lafayette Park, said to involve $100,000, will be made, it was said yesterday following the filing of a complaint against them, charging forgery of an indorsement. On the complaint they were arraigned before Justice Baird, who fixed bail at $25,000 each and committed them to the County Jail. They were arrested earlier in the day, together with C. R. Neely, of 221-1-4 North Fairfax avenue, by Detective Lieutenants Stekel and Knowles; Neely was ordered released by Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark after he had promised, according to Mr. Clark, to testify for the prosecution.

A scheme in which an aged woman was induced to sign papers which proved to be a $20,000 mortgage on her home, was asserted to have been devised by the Berscheids, Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark said yesterday.

Hollywood looked through an inverted telescope yesterday at the reported battle between Marshall Neilan, motion-picture director, and a dancing companion of his wife, Blanche Sweet, at the Plantation cafe, Sunday night.

The affair dwindled and dwindled with each person questioned. Neilan issued a denial through the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer publicity department that he had rushed out on the floor and received a blow from Miss Sweet's dancing partner after words had passed between them.

"There was a violent argument at the table next to mine," Neilan said, "but I did not get involved. I rose and entirely without provocation one of the men at the next table struck me on the head. I did not know who it was, but I was hurt. There was no fist-fight, nothing happened. Nobody was put out. My wife and I left the cafe and went home."

"No third party was mixed up in the row," Neilan said, "and I am not quarreling, that's all," an employee of the cafe said.

"No report was made to us, there was nothing to report," stated the Culver City police. Two officers from this department were called to the cafe.

There are no long-winded speeches or tiring lectures. Information is conveyed by object-lessons and demonstrations of the operation of the different devices.

One of the most interesting features of the show is the vast number of machines showing the development of the typewriter. Beginning with an ancient relic that represented the first type of writing machine on the market in 1877, the display shows all sorts of variations up to the typewriter of today. It is a half a dozen roll like a player-piano and makes it possible for a single boy-haired finger to turn out a half a dozen letters at the same time and with much greater speed than her sister using an ordinary machine can write one letter.

The adding machines occupy a conspicuous place and their development has been no less marvelous than that of the typing machine. The latest model, far simpler in construction than the earlier types, and with an equipment of only ten keys, is designed especially for the business man. It is not only fast, but it is accurate and divides, but if a depositor's account is overdrawn it rings a bell when the figures are run through, and the deficit appears in red ink on the balance sheet.

In looking over this exhibition of mechanical devices for speeding up the nation's business, one is particularly struck with the trend toward the elimination of the human factor. In many instances it looks as if all that is necessary to achieve the most astonishing results is somebody with brains enough to press a button to set the whirling steel thing in motion and administer oil when necessary. The machine does the rest and the human factor is reduced to a minimum. It is more than a human being could ever hope to do.

BAY CITY WILL BE COMPETITOR FOR COTTON

Los Angeles, which recently has been attracting practically all of the San Joaquin Valley's annual cotton crop of 75,000 bales, is to have San Francisco competition in the form of a $300,000 corporation known as the San Joaquin Valley Improvement Company. The northern concern, headed by H. S. Scott, president of the General Steamship Corporation, has purchased the California Wine Association's properties, warehouses, power plants, spur tracks and fifty-five acres at Calwa, near Fresno, and will install compresses to attract the crop for diversion to San Francisco. Heretofore much of the San Joaquin cotton has been picked up by auto trucks and brought to Los Angeles harbor for export.

De Mille Begins New Buildings at Culver City

Cecil B. De Mille yesterday announced the beginning of work on fireproof concrete buildings for his new studio at Culver City. The first unit will be a wardrobe building, two stories high and 50x30 feet, and is expected to be the center of a solid row of concrete buildings to replace the old frame structures. The first building is expected to be ready the middle of April. "The motion-picture business is now on a substantial basis and the frame structures erected when motion pictures were an experiment must go," said De Mille.

NEILAN DENIES CAFE ROW

Admits, However, Man at His Wife's Table Hit Him; Blanche Sweet Swoons, But Kiss is Healing

Hollywood looked through an inverted telescope yesterday at the reported battle between Marshall Neilan, motion-picture director, and a dancing companion of his wife, Blanche Sweet, at the Plantation cafe, Sunday night.

The affair dwindled and dwindled with each person questioned. Neilan issued a denial through the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer publicity department that he had rushed out on the floor and received a blow from Miss Sweet's dancing partner after words had passed between them.

"There was a violent argument at the table next to mine," Neilan said, "but I did not get involved. I rose and entirely without provocation one of the men at the next table struck me on the head. I did not know who it was, but I was hurt. There was no fist-fight, nothing happened. Nobody was put out. My wife and I left the cafe and went home."

"No third party was mixed up in the row," Neilan said, "and I am not quarreling, that's all," an employee of the cafe said.

"No report was made to us, there was nothing to report," stated the Culver City police. Two officers from this department were called to the cafe.

Only One Hour's Program Given on Monday

Fitzgerald Music Company Entertains Tonight

Series of Sonata Recitals Will be Given

BY CLARE FORBES CRANE

Everyone at KHJ, including the radio chaperones, rested their weary heads yesterday and drifted with peaceful currents that silence creates. One program at KHJ constituted KHJ's sole entertainment for the day, presenting the Piggly Wiggly Girls and Ralph Lang's tenor voice control.

The Piggly Wiggly Girls are regulars to our studio too frequent to recall. They are a quartet of four rather than what has already been used in this column. Their programs of semi-classical and popular works are invariably a source of delight to RadioLand, Ralph Lang's tenor voice control, and an excellent variety to the hour.

Tonight at KHJ, the Fitzgerald Music Company, under the leadership of Edward Fitzgerald, playing in the orchestra of the Pacific States Music Company, presenting a series of recitals of sonata recitals. A series of sonata recitals of note will also appear to vary the musical. These will be given every month not only to entertain RadioLand, but aid the station in securing a better understanding of certain phases of the musical forms of music and thus bring to their greater pleasure as they listen to the music.

We would suggest that every effort be made to hear this program, which in purpose and character will reward you for the time spent at your receiving set.

AFTER THE DANCE HALLS

The women legislators in the Illinois Assembly are after the dance halls and roadhouses. The corrective measure they are urging is rigorous. Licensees would have to be obtained from county boards and none would be issued to any person who had been convicted of crime of any kind. Good moral character and financial responsibility would also have to be shown. All buildings used for dancing purposes would have to be solidly built and fire protection supplied. The license would be taken away if any persons under 16 years of age were permitted to dance or if anyone convicted of a felony were allowed to frequent the place. Sales or use of liquor would be prohibited. Any disturbance of the public peace would also be cause for revocation of the license. Probably the bill will be still hanging fire when the Assembly adjourns. It would be rather hard for the roadhouses around Chicago to comply with the proposed legislation.

problem, but, instead of buckling down to business and helping in every way possible to meet the situation, the union men of the building trades are making it infinitely worse by adding immensely to building cost by shirking in every line. Most of the new dwellings are built of brick and nearly 40 per cent of the work in each case is a brick-laying job. With the ten-hour day in vogue in 1914 each workman laid an average of 900 bricks a day, or 36 an hour. But with an eight-hour day in 1924 the number laid

RUSSIAN DANCER RETAINS YOUTH

Anna Pavlova Tells of Art of Keeping Young

Danuse Holds Secrets of Fabled Fountain

Never Missed Performance
Through Sickness

BY MYRA NYE

Ponce de Leon has been counted for two centuries as the prize getter of perpetual youth. But he didn't get it nor discover the fountain of it. Why let a man retain the credit in this century and age of actual discovery? The accolade should go to composite womanhood of the professions. It is she who has attained, if not perpetual, at least perennial youth.

The very latest is Anna Pavlova, Russian danseuse, who arrives tomorrow and begins tomorrow evening a week's engagement here. I saw her not long ago in San Francisco and had a conversation with her in broad and sometimes cruel-to-women daylight. But it was not cruel to her. Daylight only accentuated her vivacity and her charm, not of beauty, but of intelligence and personality. I was amazed at her youthful appearance. When I expressed my astonishment at her freshness after a long journey, she said in her pretty foreign way, more French than Russian, and yet is neither, but Pavlovian.

FOUNTAIN FOUND
"The fountain of perpetual youth is the faculty of complete relaxation," she said, and then some one in the party, a Pavlova fan, added: "Mme. Pavlova has demonstrated the fact for you women beyond question. Probably no artist works harder, plays more exultingly or rests better than she. It is in the latter that she particularly excels. At a certain hour every day she retires for complete relaxation, as she says."

"Yes," said Pavlova, "lying down I am able to let go every muscle, every nerve immediately. In this recreative state I remain for one hour—nothing is allowed to prevent its beginning or to interrupt its course. After my mind has calmed down and she is instructed to do this gently and never alarmingly—I feel fresh and strong. Ready for a strenuous performance. This, I believe, accounts for the fact that I have never been really ill—and my regular travel. I try to entertain living—a habit I acquired in the Imperial Ballet School of Petrograd, where the pupils are allowed to learn how to live, or die before the revolution."

HOLDS RECORD

Pavlova enjoys the remarkable record of never having missed a performance because of illness or indisposition. Nor has she ever shortened the measure of a performance for any cause. I was told, "It is so I remain young physically. Mentally, the only thing that tires me is the monotony of incessant travel. I try to entertain myself then. I do some little modeling in clay. Painting is another of my avocations, but, of course, I cannot do this as I travel, but when we stop in odd moments in my dressing-rooms, on trains, and in my hotel."

"I became interested in these arts," Mme. Pavlova continued, "when she saw my interest, 'through my association for several years with Malvina Hoffman, the American sculptress, whose great friend depicting my 'Bacchante' in now nearing completion at my home in London. In return for instruction in dancing, I received from Mme. Hoffman a course in her line of art." Pavlova hesitated then added laughingly, "I get quite a kick out of it all. The sculptress does, too; for she has learned to dance the complete routine of my 'Bacchante' in her studio, and in my hotel."

Council Orders Gravel Company Injunction Suit

The City Council yesterday unanimously approved a request by City Attorney Stephens to bring an injunction at once against the Los Angeles Rock and Gravel Company, of which H. W. Hawley is president, to restrain its continuing excavations along Avenue 22.

Many similar actions have been taken against this company in the past, but the City Attorney said he had been informed that the company was planning to excavate along Avenue 22, and he felt it necessary to bring an injunction at once against the company.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Better Pudding
Put the milk pudding into a cold oven and let the oven heat gradually with the milk. If put into a very hot oven it is apt to cause the milk to curdle.

Bicycle Tape
Bicycle tape is splendid to wrap around any flayed parts of the vacuum cleaner cord. It will prevent breakage of the wire beneath and greatly prolong the life of the cord.

A Gift for Baby
A thin hair pillow is an ideal suggestion for the new baby. It prevents the baby from perspiring and keeps the hair clean and soft during the coming summer. This is one thing rarely found in a baby's outfit.

The Dish Rag
Most housewives are most particular about clean tea towels, but how many completely forget the dish rag which is their constant ally in the kitchen? It should be washed out after each meal and dried thoroughly before using again.

Saw-Edged Bread
The saw-edged bread knife is easier to handle when cutting fresh bread and a great deal less likely to cut the fingers than the old-fashioned bread knife.

Minus the "Canary" Taste
When using canned beans or peas, turn them into a saucepan and hold the pan under the water faucet. Allow the water to change slowly until clear and without foam. Then they will be ready to eat.

Father Will Never Miss It
If you want just a little bright silk to pipe the little girls' dresses, look through the neckties of the gentlemen of the house. Frequently a necktie that is seldom used will give just the touch of color needed for the small garment.

Time for New Ones
It may be economy, but it is pretty hard on the wearer to continue to use stockings and socks until they arrive at the lumpy stage. It only means extra wear and tear on the feet of the wearer and certainly that is not true economy.

Use Just the Fish
Pour off any oil found in the can of fish. Never use it in the fish dish. It is apt to impart a disagreeable flavor.

Turn Them Around
Turn your window boxes or plants once a week so that they do not always grow in one direction, toward the sunlight. A lopsided plant is not pretty.

Running Ribbon
When running ribbon through a garment start at the center of garment and run it through from there in each direction. It means less handling of the ribbon and in consequence a better-looking job.

Household Notes
Good flour should smell sweet and nutty and have no hint of mustiness.
Sprinkle talcum powder in the new shoes to prevent their burning the feet.
A coarse comb will remove sawdust and hair from the brush of the vacuum cleaner.
You had better start now to save the pasteboards that come in shirts from the laundry. They keep everything shipshape when the vacation trunk is packed.

Always Fresh -

Your dealer receives HELLMANN'S BLUE RIBBON MAYONNAISE frequently and in small quantities. In serving it you can always be sure that the dressing is as fresh and appetizing as the salad itself.

Supreme Court Gives Estate to Divorced Wife

A decision of the United States Supreme Court refusing to take jurisdiction in the A. A. Patterson will case, was filed yesterday with the Second District Court of Appeal here. The decision has the effect of sustaining the California courts in holding the will valid.

Patterson and his wife, Mrs. Martha Patterson, living in Seattle, made mutual wills leaving the survivor all their property. In 1920 Mrs. Patterson obtained a divorce, and Patterson moved to Los Angeles, where he died in November, 1921. She claimed his $45,000 estate under the will, which he had not revoked.

Patterson's relatives contested on the ground that the laws of the State of Washington provide that a divorced decree nullifies all wills made by the husband and wife, and that as Patterson died a resident of this State, the California "law governed the case. An appeal was then taken to the United States Supreme Court, which has just dismissed it.

KILLING LAID TO BEAUTY DOCTOR

Mme. Lynne Arrested After Jury's Verdict

Poison Found in Brain of Peeling Patient

Pasadena Woman's Funeral is Set for Today

Mrs. Mary Electra Lawrence, also known as Mme. Electra Lynne, in whose beauty parlors at 1525 Morgan Place, Mrs. Jesse Gilchrist, Pasadena business woman met her death several days ago, was yesterday afternoon charged with manslaughter in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist. Atty. Davis. Mme. Lynne was lodged in the city jail and is being held under $10,000 bail.

Mme. Lynne was taken to the District Attorney's office and later to the City Jail by Detective Lieutenant Paul Stevens. She will probably be arraigned today in the justice of peace court.

At the Coroner's inquest conducted by County Coroner Frank A. Nance at the Strother and Dayton undertaking establishment at 6240 Hollywood Boulevard, prior to the issuance of the complaint, the jury found that Mrs. Gilchrist came to her death "from phenol poisoning administered in a skin peeling operation" by Mme. Lynne. Six different witnesses testified at the inquest and the jury required half an hour to render its decision.

REFUSES TO TESTIFY
Upon advice of her attorney, Russell H. Pray of Long Beach, Mme. Lynne refused to testify in the case, claiming immunity on her constitutional rights.

Intimation as to what might constitute Mme. Lynne's defense when she is brought to trial was revealed partially yesterday in statements made on the witness stand that Mrs. Gilchrist had had a somewhat similar operation performed on her face in June, 1924, by Dr. Gertrude Steele, naturopath and beauty doctor. Dr. Steele later died in Los Angeles and the United States after she had been charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of one of her patients.

Those who have investigated Mrs. Gilchrist's operation at the hands of Dr. Steele learned that the former was confined to her home for two weeks after that operation and that several scars from incisions remained on her face. These facts were later verified by R. S. Yeiser, business associate of Mrs. Gilchrist, who yesterday on the stand said that at that operation only a local anesthetic had been used.

STATE ACTION SEEN
It was also intimated yesterday that the State Medical Board will initiate some step to force the enactment of legislation preventing the use of poisonous drugs by incompetent and untrained persons.

Mrs. Steele was indicted in Los Angeles in October, 1924, charged with causing the death of Mrs. Christy, administered to her a land place by a facial operation. After her disappearance it was discovered that other patients had suffered disfigurement as a result of her lack of skill. Mrs. Leslie, 57 years of age, had her face disfigured by Steele's institute at 1899 Winfield street. Infection followed and she died in St. Vincent's Hospital.

It developed in the ensuing investigation that the beauty doctor had also been charged with murder in connection with the death of another patient three years before but had escaped on a technicality.

On January 12, last, Dr. Steele was located in Oberhausen, Germany, according to local police, and was being held by German authorities. The homicide squad declared police will seek her extradition to the city to face the charge of manslaughter.

NO MORPHINE FOUND
While the Gilchrist inquest was being conducted yesterday the body of Mrs. Gilchrist was found in the pending outcome of the autopsy and analysis of vital organs by County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner and County Chemist Walker was removed to Pasadena.

Funeral services for Mrs. Gilchrist will be conducted at the chapel of C. F. Lamb & Son undertaking parlors today at 2 p.m. Rev. C. E. Tanner, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Downey, will officiate. Officers of the Pasadena Realty Board will act as casket bearers.

Contrary to his activities last week as a witness, the nearest approach to a show of fire on the part of Mors came when he described the way he asserted McCoy threatened to assault him before the tragedy. Mors clenched his fists and squared away in the same manner he said the ex-pugilist did. He also told of his relations with newspapers and declared they were against him.

The case against McCoy, charged with four counts of robbery and three of assault to murder, in connection with a shooting rampage he indulged in at the Mors antique shop on the day Mrs. Mors was slain, is expected to be completed today and will be given to the jury tomorrow. The case is being tried in Judge Cralley's court, and has been in progress for three weeks.

Mayor Cryer explained many of the provisions of the new charter and Mr. Carrillo urged fair play and support for clean American drama and the men and women of the stage. Dr. Clifford Loos introduced the speakers.

JAILER MAKES CATCH ON TRIP

Meets Fugitive Trusty While Seeing Sights in Santa Barbara

Jailer Bailey combined business with pleasure on an automobile trip to Santa Barbara Sunday. While seeing the sights in the Channel City, Mr. Bailey saw a face he thought he recognized. He was so sure of it that he extracted handcuffs from his pocket and slipped them on the wrists of the man, whom he identified as Henry Castner, 45 years of age, who is said to have been the first prisoner to escape from the new Newton-street station.

Before Castner left the jail, police say, without obtaining consent, he was a cook and a trusty. He is now back in jail but is neither cook nor a trusty. Castner was serving a term on a petty larceny charge.

TWO YEARS FOR ASSAULT
William Ockert, Santa Monica, teamster, was sentenced to serve two years on the county road gang yesterday by Judge Collier as the result of an assault by Ockert on his brother, Walter, with a shotgun. Ockert admitted shooting his brother, declaring he believed the latter had been unduly intimate with his wife. Judge Collier ordered whatever wages Ockert earns on the road gang made payable to his wife for the support of his two children.

TESTIMONY OF LOTION
Testimony of Dr. W. Leroy Fuller, 1051 West Sixth street, who was said to have furnished Mme. Lynne with the lotion indicated yesterday that the doctor had only furnished the beauty specialist with a lotion for the use on the hands which contained 60 per cent of carbolic acid. This, however, was pointed out as the same sort of a lotion that is used throughout the city by different beauty houses and frequently issued by doctors.

Dr. Fuller would not venture any definite statement as to the cause of Mrs. Gilchrist's death but said it was his opinion that death resulted from the absorption of phenol into a system which was very susceptible to that form of drug. Dr. Fuller pointed out that various persons were susceptible to different drugs to a varying degree and that only a thorough physical examination could determine this susceptibility. He stated that Mrs. Gilchrist had told him that she had been in the hands of a doctor who had made only a cursory examination of the heart and found it in good condition.

"I have no connection with this beauty parlor or any beauty parlor, either directly or indirectly," Dr. Fuller said following the inquest. "I never knew Mme. Lynne until recently. I think I gave Mme. Lynne a lotion about a month or two ago, but whether it was my solution that caused the death of Mrs. Gilchrist, I do not know. You must remember that thousands of these beauty operations have been performed, surfaces have been peeled, and the danger of such a thing can only be determined from competent examination of the patient's susceptibility."

DOCTOR TESTIFIES
Dr. Fuller testified that he administered hypodermically, only one quarter of a grain of morphine and that Mrs. Gilchrist was fully conscious when he left. It was brought out that this dose was sufficient to keep a child to small child and normally should cause nothing more than drowsiness or sleep if the subject follows the doctor's instructions.

Both Dr. Fuller and Dr. Wagner, who followed soon after on the stand, testified that the administration of such a lotion should not be placed in inexperienced hands and that the persons using poisons in such work should know the limitations as much as doctors. Dr. Wagner stated, however, that while it might have been possible that just as large an area of skin had been covered before on different persons, as a general rule "such a large surface should not be covered in any circumstances." Dr. Wagner also briefly touched on the susceptibility of different persons to the same drugs.

Among other witnesses who testified yesterday were Detective Lieutenant Kling of the Hollywood police division, who, with Detective Kling, investigated Mrs. Gilchrist's death; Detective Lieutenant Paul Stevens of the homicide squad, who brought Mrs. Lawrence to the District Attorney's office; Dr. A. C. Cameron of 1545 Hollywood Boulevard, and others.

STAR BOARDER NAMED

Divorce Complaint Says That Guest Triumphed

Harry W. Clarke, bank employee of Alhambra, yesterday filed suit for divorce against Dora Clarke in which he named Frank C. Crawford, Alhambra lumber dealer, as "star boarder" and co-respondent. In his suit he charged that his wife took Crawford to their home as "star boarder" and that later she became Crawford's private secretary. He finally ordered Crawford to leave, Clarke said, but his wife began to treat him with cruelty, thus causing him to be driven from home. Immediately thereafter, he said, his wife took Crawford back as "star boarder."

HOSPITAL INTRODUCES INNOVATION IN SERVICE

INDIVIDUAL TELEPHONE AND RADIO EARPHONES AT EVERY BED

An innovation in hospital practice—individual radio earphones as well as separate telephones at every bedside—is one of the features installed at Sylvan Lodge Maternity Hospital, Santa Monica Boulevard and Hoover street, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Donna E. Bell, director of the institution. The formal opening of the hospital, which has just been completed, will take place next Saturday.

One bed in the hospital has been set aside for the use of wives of former American soldiers. Its use will be under the direction of the Los Angeles chapter of the American Red Cross. Miss Mabel T. Boardman, national secretary of the Red Cross, who is to visit Los Angeles this week, is expected to visit Sylvan Lodge and accept the offer of the soldier bed.

Valentino Has Signed, United Now Announces
Direct confirmation of the reports that Rudolph Valentino had signed with United Artists was given yesterday. It was announced he will make three productions this year and that the first will start immediately. Jayce Williams, president of Ritz Carlton productions, to which Valentino has been under contract, announced himself entirely satisfied with Valentino's new arrangement.

The Valentino productions will be supervised by Benjamin Glazer, it was announced by Joseph M. Schenck, chairman of the board of directors of United Artists. A. George Ullman will remain as Valentino's business manager.

Whether the Court of Appeals will review the decision of the California Corporation Commission, after refusing to grant Leach a license to operate a bridge, decided after a hearing, came up for consideration before the court, Judge Widney, representing the state, and Judge Glazer, representing the bridge company, argued the case.

The court allowed the state to argue the case, but the court allowed the bridge company to argue the case.

Saturday is the day for the court to decide the case.

TRIO JAILED IN KIDNAPING AND ATTACK

Victim, Mexican General's Daughter, Said to be in Serious Condition

Three of four youths charged in a complaint issued yesterday by the District Attorney's office with kidnaping Dolores Guhardo, 18-year-old daughter of a former general in the Mexican army and with attacking her, were lodged in the City Jail last night by Detective Torres.

EPIDEMIC CHARGED

Mr. Joos said yesterday that he had been informed that the landlady of the house at 411 West Queen street, Inglewood, had ordered Mrs. Sims out of the place. Mrs. Sims and her husband, who were found there Friday night after her release from the County Jail, though she has stated that her home is in reality at 1621 Kendrick street, Western City, where several expectant mothers have been attended. At the Inglewood house Mrs. Sims said that she was acting as nurse for two young women who were maternity patients there.

Mrs. Sims will request authority from her superiors to enlarge her inquiry into the sale of unwanted children, which, she says, has attained the proportions of an "epidemic." She is particularly interested in locating a "Mrs. Foster," who operated in Gardena several weeks ago. The Foster woman has disappeared. She attended two mothers, one baby having vanished when it was only two hours of age. Another was taken away shortly after its birth, suffering from an eye infection, and was later returned and was then rescued and taken to the General Hospital, where it is reported as being on the road to recovery. A Gardena physician, called to Mrs. Foster's place on an emergency call, reported the place to Mrs. Sirch as being irregular.

Both Mr. Joos and Mrs. Sirch are determined to break up the practice of inducing unwed mothers to surrender their babies, which are then given to children parents, who are asked to pay "expenses," these usually amounting to several hundred dollars.

The charge against Mrs. Sims, which is based upon Section 151 of the Penal Code, known as the "baby section," is the first of its kind to be filed in the Los Angeles courts in many years. It is, according to Mr. Joos, the first of the old slavery laws of the time prior to the Civil War. That part of the section particularly applicable to the present case, Mr. Joos said, is the part stating that any person who "receives money or anything of value in consideration of placing any person in the custody or under the control of another" is punishable by imprisonment of from one to ten years.

DATA SHOW LOCAL GAIN IN BUSINESS

Charles Stern Points Out to Electric Club Falsity of Reports in East

The falsity of reports in eastern publications purporting to show a business depression in Los Angeles and Southern California was proven with statistics by Charles F. Stern, president of the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and executive vice-president of the First National Bank yesterday, in a talk at the noon luncheon of the Electric Club.

Figures on business operations for 1923 and 1924 show, Mr. Stern said, that bank deposits here increased $93,000,000; postal receipts gained $850,000, bank clearings increased $165,000,000, and agricultural products in this county have increased $15,000,000 in value in 1924.

The work of the Traffic Commission in solving the traffic problems of this community was lauded by Mr. Stern as the greatest single achievement in 1924.

The luncheon was presided over by President J. E. MacDonald. The following committee chairmen were appointed:

Program—E. G. Miller, Southern California Edison Company; attendance, J. O. Case, General Electric Company; fellowship, E. V. Bennett, allied industries; public policy, H. A. Barre, Southern California Edison Company; visiting and relief, H. H. Ranlett, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation; charity, D. T. Leach, United States Steel Products Company; civic and interclub relations, J. N. Colkitt, John A. Roebling Sons; publicity, D. L. Scott, Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation; financial, H. J. McHugh, Garnett Young & Co.; membership, Sam W. Scott, Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

DANGERS WITHIN SOUND CALL IN FIGHT FOR ROAD FUNDS

Prof. Shurtler Gives Data in Oratory Contest Lesson
Communism and Activity of Selfish Minorities Hit

Loss of Sense of Individual Responsibility Decried

The eighth lesson by Prof. Shurtler for the assistance of entrants in the National Oratorical Contest present dangers to the institutions established by the Constitution.

We recall the injunction of Daniel Webster, "Self-love, our hope for the future, national pride, and gratitude to God, all prompt us to embrace these institutions of our native land with all the affection of our hearts, and to defend them with all the strength of our hands."

As good American citizens, we should fully understand our institutions so that our affections can be intelligently directed. In order that we may defend these institutions with all the strength of our hands, it is not only necessary to understand the history of their creation and their progress through the years, but also to know the enemies which are attacking them.

These enemies may be divided roughly into three classes: First, Communism; second, the intensely selfish minority; and third, the selfishness of the majority.

First: Communism. There has been a most threatened advance in radicalism in this country within the last few years. It is stated by competent authority that there are 1,200,000 radicals in this country who are clamoring for a change in the nature of our government from its present form to one of varying degrees of Communism.

Second: Organized Minorities. The Constitution of the United States as originally written and interpreted, created a republic or a representative government.

Third: The selfishness of the majority. This selfishness is not a new thing, but it is a danger to the institutions established by the Constitution.

Insidious Enemy. Third, the most insidious enemy to our existing institutions is an apparent loss of a sense of individual responsibility.

Auto Club Officers Warn South Being Robbed of Fair Share of Highways

A call for the people of Southern California to unite in concentrated action if they want this portion of the State to get its just share of money proposed to be spent and being spent by the Legislature on State highways was sounded last night by General Counsel Ivan Kelo and Engineer East of the Automobile Club of Southern California, speaking before members of the City Club.

Under the system now in vogue, Southern California comprises about half the area of the State, with 48.5 per cent of the population and having 51.3 per cent of the taxable wealth of the State, is being apportioned about one-third of the road improvements, the speakers stated.

Until the reapportionment wrangle in the Legislature is settled and Southern California gets adequate representation therein, the speakers told their audience, there was every prospect that the unequal division would continue, and every effort must be brought to bear through the Legislature and the Governor.

At present the State has a highway system of 6,500 miles which State engineers have estimated will cost $14,000,000 to complete to standard specifications. One-third of this system is in Southern California.

The Automobile Club is recommending a plan by which the State should be divided into two highway districts with equal sums allotted to each. State taxes would be spent on specified trunk highways only, leaving local roads to be financed by local sources.

Kelo declared the Automobile Club was carrying its fight to the last ditch, and planned a number of open-air mass meetings, probably in the Coliseum and the Hollywood Bowl, in the near future.

Deputy Sheriff Asserts Arrested Gamblers Were Given Freedom. A complaint against the Culver City Police Department has been filed with Dist. Atty. Keyes by Deputy Sheriff James E. Bond and James E. Bond, who is head of the county liquor and gambling squad, told Keyes that on the last night, the day of the automobile race at Culver City Speedway, he and his squad arrested four men whom they found gambling with dice in one of the buildings on the speedway grounds.

Forty-five members of the City Prosecutor's office, their wives and guests, were hosts last night at a "Get Together Dinner" in the ballroom of the Alexandria at which judges of the city police courts and their families were the guests of honor.

The meeting was the first of several planned by City Prosecutor Friedlander as a means of promoting cooperation and co-ordination among all those upon whom the enforcement of city laws and State statutes rests.

Heath Asks Women to Aid Drive on Mashers

Alarming Increase of Cases Arouses Chief

Three Reports of Kidnaping Made to Police

To combat the alarming increase in attacks on women and to make the streets of Los Angeles safe for women, Chief of Police Heath last night called upon women's clubs and individual women to aid in an educational campaign designed to trap shelds and mashers who accost women and seek to entice them to go on automobile rides.

This campaign was decided on after several new cases of attacks and attempted attacks were reported to police.

Chief Heath urged all women to take the license numbers of automobiles in which mashers are riding. A special detail of policemen will be assigned to check up on the numbers, he said, and will prosecute. Women's clubs are requested to aid by informing members of the police plan.

One girl was attacked and two others beat off their assailants yesterday, according to reports to police.

Frances Bates, 14 years of age, a Franklin High School pupil, according to her parents, reported to police, was kidnaped by two men in an automobile as she was on her way home from school yesterday.

She was taken in the car from North Avenue Fifty-four and Irving Place to a point on Mt. Washington. After a vigorous fight in which she says she kicked one of the men in the jaw, she escaped. She described one man as being about 40 years of age and the other about 25. They were traveling in a light touring car, Miss Bates lives at 8315 Arroyo Grande.

Two men of the same description, a short time later, kidnaped Lois Cook, 13 years of age, of 2949 Raymond avenue, from the street near the intersection of Jefferson and Normandie avenues, after the elder man, on foot, had tripped her, she was taken in the car to a point on the Pacific Coast Highway.

Chief Heath promises women that more secrecy will be the keyword in handling the search for mashers and women who are reluctant to report those who annoy or make advances to them.

Developers

With right hands raised gliding themselves as Developers the great gathering which heralded the dawn of a new era in the history of Los Angeles at the Inaugural Banquet of Developers, Inc., at the Biltmore, is pictured above. At this meeting with over 500 citizens attending, representing leading property owners and all phases of civic activity, the definite plans were launched for opening Wilshire through from Figueroa between Sixth and Seventh streets to connect with Whittier boulevard on the East Side.

This project, acclaimed by all as one of first importance to the stabilization of our downtown business district, is part of the major traffic plan as adopted at the last election. The necessity for its early completion is emphasized by the city planning commission, traffic commission engineers, financiers and business men who realize the tremendous cost to the entire community of any movement of the present downtown district. Such a move is certain to come unless Wilshire is opened to provide ready means of ingress and egress from the present congested area.

Work to Start at Once
Developers, Inc., will proceed at once to put in operation the plans discussed at the inaugural banquet. To Mr. John A. Quinn, the president and active director general, this comes as more than two years of preparatory work following an intensive participation in the business and civic affairs of the city for more than 10 years.

To Work With Existing Bodies

Work will be carried forward in active co-operation with both the East Side and West Side organizations and the Affiliated Improvement associations. It is the plan of Developers, Inc., to work with existing organizations to avoid duplication and take full advantage of all engineering and other work done so as to avoid unnecessary expense and speed up actual completion of contemplated developments; to make them available in the shortest possible time.

Developers a Non-Profit Organization

As was fully outlined at the inaugural banquet, Developers, Inc., is a non-profit corporation, whose operations will be carried on at actual cost to be defrayed from special funds underwritten for each project. The necessary staff will be engaged as required, but Developers, Inc., is first of all a service organization dedicated to development. This is emphasized by reviewing the purpose as set forth in the articles of incorporation wherein they recite:

"To formulate and to assist in formulating plans for the development of the City of Los Angeles, and particularly the business section thereof; to assist in carrying out said plans and to do all necessary acts and things in conjunction with other organizations or otherwise, for the purpose of formulating and executing plans for the development of the City of Los Angeles, and particularly the business section thereof; to formulate, prepare and execute plans for the widening of streets, the pavement thereof, the improvement thereof in any other manner, and to project, plan, develop and organize the business district of the city of Los Angeles for the purpose of creating new streets, avenues and thoroughfares, improving the same and participating in the work of such improvements, including the presentation of such plans to public officials whose duties include the execution thereof, and to urge said public officials to bring about the execution of said plans, and otherwise to co-operate and assist in projecting, designing and consummating such public improvements."

NIMMO CHAIRMAN OF EVENT

Ray E. Nimmo, chairman of the evening, speaking at the opening of the banquet, said, "The center of our city has not kept up with the progress of the balance of the community," and in introducing Mr. John A. Quinn, said, "I have known Mr. Quinn for some seven years, and his efforts to realize in this city an ideal."

QUINN SAYS WILL PROCEED AT ONCE

Mr. Quinn said in the response: "Developers are to do a big work for Los Angeles. Today there is no first-class direct artery leading into the heart of the downtown district. When a man's arteries are closed his heart cannot function. The same is true of the heart of a city, which is the business district; without proper traffic arteries there is congestion and paralysis, which prevents really development. Wilshire boulevard opened through from its terminus at Figueroa between Sixth and Seventh to Whittier boulevard on the east will furnish the only first-class, direct, central artery to connect the east and west sides and relieve present congestion."

"Developers will proceed at once on this task with your continued co-operation and the already pledged co-operation of the leading property owners and improvement associations."

PROCEED IN A BUSINESS-LIKE WAY

Judge Bledsoe said, in part: "We have got to proceed in a business-like, expeditious and wholesale manner to find out the right way to take care of the people that are determined to come here and share their lot with us. It is going to require men of vision and men of capacity and men who, having seen their duty, are determined to proceed with the doing of it."

CITY PLANNING DIRECTOR WHITNALL SPEAKS

Said G. Gordon Whitnall, director of the city planning commission, "A city can be likened to a great tank into which you are pouring oil in the morning and withdrawing it at night. Regardless of capacity the amount of oil you can get in and take out is limited to the size of the pipes. The same is true of people endeavoring to reach the downtown district. You need adequate means of ingress and egress." Then he pointed out dramatically the need for stabilizing the downtown district so as not to disrupt present rapid transit, telephone, gas, light, water and sewer facilities.

THROUGH BOULEVARD URGENTLY NEEDED

Fred T. Beatty, president of the East Side organization and vice-president of the Developers, Inc., in a brief talk pointed out the very urgent need of extending Wilshire boulevard across town to Whittier boulevard, thus stabilizing the present business district and opening up both the east and west sides of the city. A community project of greatest importance to both east and west sides.

SHIRLEY WARD CONGRATULATES DEVELOPERS

Mr. Shirley Ward, president of the Office Building and Managers association, said:

"It is certainly an auspicious occasion and I wish to congratulate the Developers upon having gone to the very heart of the biggest development that has ever been undertaken in the city. This great radical cross-town street, running from Santa Monica to San Diego, Wilshire boulevard, is going to be the greatest vehicular street of the city."

"It is absolutely necessary to stabilize valuations here, and I feel a good deal of the stern joy that warriors feel in having foemen worthy of their steel, when I am aligned with this tremendous undertaking, and I wish to congratulate Developers for choosing this, the most difficult but the most important of all street widening and opening projects as their initial development in appearing before the city."

BANKERS O. K. PLAN

John P. Kennedy, chief appraiser of Security Trust and Savings, said: "The purpose of the Developers, Inc., as I view it, is to stabilize the business district of Los Angeles from every point of view. I am ready and willing to follow the trail of the Developers, and I am satisfied that with the personnel of that organization, the influence that it wields, the very excellent purpose which motivates them, they can go ahead and bring about the conditions that are needed, provided you will support them in every way possible. Now, as to the movement for the extension of Wilshire boulevard in an easterly direction, please bear in mind the vast improvements on the east side of our city which demand that streets be opened and widened so that the people living in that direction can come into the business part of the city and deal there. That is a thing that is essential. I believe that Wilshire boulevard can be extended, not only that, but other streets that are what we call blind streets should be opened, widened and extended, so that there may be no physical barriers leading into the business part of the city."

WORK PROPERLY CO-ORDINATED

"We should congratulate ourselves because of the work of the Developers, Inc., co-ordinated as it is and will be, I am sure, with the work of the official bodies of the city and other civic organizations," said Mr. Scattergood, chief engineer of the Bureau of Power and Light.

"In twenty years' organization work in Los Angeles," said C. M. C. Raymond, "I have seen the city more than treble in size with practically no increase in the main arterial highways. The need for the opening of Wilshire boulevard is self-evident. In leaving the executive secretaryship of the Advertising Club, I did so because I believed I could be of some help to the men at the head of Developers in rendering a much-needed service to the community."

MAJOR TRAFFIC COMMISSION ENGINEERS SAY PUT IT THROUGH

Mr. Cheney, one of the three engineers who laid out the major traffic plan, said: "When your engineers last year tried to get a solution for the traffic problem in Los Angeles, they tried every way possible not to recommend putting Wilshire down town and they couldn't find any other way out. The downtown district has got to have a main east and west artery for automobile traffic alone and it has to be clear across town. You can't bring Wilshire down town and stop it at Olive or Hill street. You have got to carry it all the way through and nobody was quicker than this new, virile organization, Developers, Inc., to see that bringing that great artery right straight through to the east side as we recommended is going to be a lifesaver for the business center. That artery must be carried through as an automobile street only, clear through the east side, and it will rejuvenate, without doubt to my mind, the east side. It will build up the east side; increase property values. I should not be surprised, a thousand percent along a good many streets, not only the main streets, but the adjoining streets."

CHURCHES REPRESENTED

Dr. Briegleb, representative of the Church federation, said: "One other thing dominates the minds of the Developers and that is unity of faith and purpose."

H. A. Van Norman, city engineer, in a letter read at the meeting, pledged full co-operation to Developers on this project.

SUCCESS ASSURED, SAYS GARLAND

A letter was also read from W. M. Garland, president of the Community Development Association, stating: "With the type of men at the head of the Developers, I am sure you will succeed in your splendid undertaking, which will be particularly beneficial to the whole city of Los Angeles."

"I feel that your organization has a splendid ideal, the realization of which will mean a better Los Angeles," wrote Dr. Rufus B. Von Klenzsmid, president of University of Southern California.

STRAUSS SENDS MESSAGE PLEDGING CO-OPERATION

S. W. Strauss in a letter likewise sent a message of congratulation for the splendid work accomplished, pledging his full co-operation.

ORGANIZATION FILLS IMPORTANT NEED SAYS ATTY. SCOTT

Attorney Joseph Scott, in his address in closing the banquet, said: "Some have called my friend, John Quinn, a dreamer. I say to you—the toll is paid in a day, but the dreamer lives forever. A great central service organization having the co-operation of the public, is the need of the hour. I am convinced that Developers, Inc., fills that need."

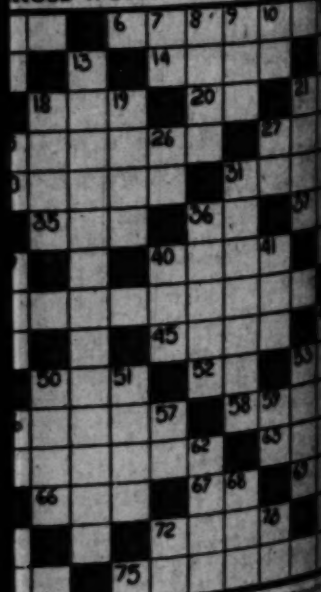

DEVELOPERS' SERVICES AVAILABLE TO ALL

The services of Developers, Inc., are available to any citizen or group of citizens, for projects which will aid development along lines of greater usefulness. The first issue of their monthly publication, The Los Angeles Developer, will make its appearance at an early date. It will be devoted to accurate information on development and improvement projects. Copies can be had for the subscription price of one dollar per year. Already many citizens have become subscribers.

Offices of Developers, Inc., are maintained in the Financial Center Building at Seventh and Spring.

Conference—Lord Lee of Lady Lee, is in the United States conferring with President Coolidge on the history of Los Angeles at the Inaugural Banquet of Developers, Inc., in the Wilshire district, is pictured at this meeting with the citizens attending, representing leading property owners and all phases of city activity, the definite plans were launched for opening Wilshire through the Figueroa between Sixth and Seventh streets to connect with Whittier boulevard on the East Side.
